United Women in Faith shall be a community of women whose purpose is: to know God and to experience freedom as whole persons through Jesus Christ; to develop a creative, supportive fellowship; and to expand concepts of mission through participation in the global ministries of the church.

President Report

Dear Friends,

As usual, I am on a spiritual high this time of year after attending our WNCC UWF Spiritual Growth Retreat in June. The SGR theme was “Coming to Christ” led by Rev. Jan Brittain. She offered much insight and different ways of thinking about some of the Biblical women’s stories of their encounters with Jesus. I am excited to reveal that Rev. Brittain has agreed to speak at our 2024 Prayer Breakfast in March. Do come and you will be blessed!

Ladies, when you choose to come to these uplifting events that take months of prayerful planning, you are gifted with opportunities to bond and worship with your sisters in faith and form meaningful relationships. We are truly a sisterhood. Please make plans to be a part of our upcoming Appalachian District Annual Celebration in August and Membership and Leadership Development Day in October. Hopefully, you have already registered for Mission u at the end of July. Come to our events! We want to be your friend! We cherish YOUR friendship.

As I was proofreading this newsletter, I received the heartbreaking news that Judy Sipe, our former District Spiritual Growth Coordinator, lost her life on the evening of July 8 due to injuries she sustained in an automobile accident the previous morning. She is now in the presence of her Lord and Savior and I am sure He said to her, “Well done, My good and faithful servant.” Please hold her family in your prayers. See her Memorial page later in this publication.

As I have informed you before, I would like to have some photos of our local units to put into a slide presentation for the Annual Celebration, so please send those photos to me as soon as possible and prior to August 10. You may email, text, or snail mail the photos. I will return any snail mail photos that you want back. Thank you in advance!

It saddens me that some of our churches have disaffiliated from the UMC and I am enclosing at the end of this newsletter an excellent article by Tara Barnes, Director of Denominational Relations for United Women in Faith, that appeared in the May/June 2024 issue of response magazine. The article explains much about disaffiliation, how it happened, and where we go from here.

On behalf of our Appalachian District, I want to thank Nancy Johnson and Judy Sipe for their faithful service as District Treasurer and District Spiritual Growth Coordinator. Nancy took care of our funds diligently as she sent them on their Mission Journey and Judy led our team in planning our inspirational Prayer Breakfasts over the past few years. These ladies are members of a church that has disaffiliated and they felt led to resign their UWF positions as of June 1. We will miss Nancy and wish God's blessings upon her in her future endeavors. We will also miss Judy and hold fondest memories of her in our hearts as we lift up her family in our prayers.

We thank Nancy Reigel and Sherry Summerlin who agreed to fulfill the duties of District Treasurer and District Spiritual Growth Coordinator, respectively, through the end of 2023. Our District Executive Team has voted for this change and are thankful for their willingness to serve.

I reiterate what I said in the letter I sent with or after the last newsletter: Perhaps your unit has become inactive or your church has disaffiliated from the United Methodist Church. In either case, you are still welcome and wanted in United Women in Faith. You and your friends are still invited to any and all of our district and conference events. If your unit is no longer meeting or your church has already disaffiliated or is planning to do so, you can still be a district member and your unit can still be a UWF unit. If we do not agree on all issues, that's okay. We can agree that we are all connected as Christian women in faith and we know that we can love each other and agree to disagree without being disagreeable.

Also, if you wish to be removed from the mailing list or email list, please let me know. We certainly do not wish to annoy you with unwanted mail and emails. You may email, text or call me.

Feel free to contact me whenever you have questions and if I don't know the answer, I have some very knowledgeable friends who do.

Love, peace, and joy,
Linda (LindaLu) Greer

Greetings,
As we look to our District Annual Celebration, please note that we will vote on accepting the revised Appalachian District Standing Rules. A copy will be available to you at the August meeting. I look forward to seeing you on August 26, 2023.

Blessings and peace,
Sherry Summerlin
Appalachian District Parliamentarian.

Greetings,
In the last newsletter, I forgot to introduce myself. I am Traci Snyder and I attend First United Methodist Church of Taylorsville. I have been a Methodist all of my life. I have enjoyed putting the newsletter together. If you have any suggestions please let me know.

Blessings and Peace

Can you believe that 2024 is half over?!?! Time definitely flies when we're having fun. Our Spiritual Growth Retreat at Lake Junaluska was so inspiring – with a theme of “Women Coming to Christ”. Our conference and district planning teams, breakout session leaders, Lake Junaluska staff, and retreat leader, Rev. Jan Brittain, and music team, Rev. Mark Barden and Catherine Ritch did an outstanding job. As Rev. Brittain said in her closing remarks, “If you remember nothing else I have said in our time together, I want you to hear this. Coming to Jesus AND staying there is the only way any of us can make it to the promise of the empty tomb and the power of the resurrection. We can't just be women who come to Jesus, Beloved. We have to be the women who come to Jesus and stay.” Such a powerful message! If you couldn't make it to the Spiritual Growth Retreat, I do hope that I will see some of you at Mission u July 28-29.

Our next Appalachian District event is our District Annual Celebration at New Covenant UMC in Lenoir NC on Saturday, August 26th (see the Annual Celebration flyer in this newsletter for details). This is a time to celebrate each other for 2022 unit accomplishments, to review and approve our proposed District 2024 budget, and to elect and install our 2024 Appalachian District Officers. I hope that many of you will take the time to attend and be a part of celebrating each other!

If there is anything I can do to help you, please don't hesitate to call, text, or email me.

Blessings,
Jan Taylor, 336-468-0313

Hello from Membership, Nurture, and Outreach.

If you look at that title, you will notice that I have addressed membership, but Nurturing each other comes second. Remember that we need to be aware of what the needs of our members are and give them some nurturing. Last is outreach, so reach out to any who could benefit from being a Woman of Faith. Keep our friendships strong and prayerful.

Treasurer Report

Hello, Appalachian District United Women in Faith! I am thrilled to have the opportunity to serve you as your Interim District Treasurer for the SECOND half of 2023. I know many of you, but for those of you I have not met, I am Nancy Reigel, a proud member of the Appalachian District since the district was formed in 2013. I have had the privilege of serving as the President of the District for 3 years and then as WNCC UWF Conference Treasurer for 7 years, and look forward to working with my Appalachian District sisters again.

I begin by wishing our previous District Treasure, Nancy Johnson, the very best. Nancy was an awesome, organized, and efficient District Treasurer. We are sad she is leaving us but we understand her desire to maintain her ties with her existing church as they find a separate way. Change can be difficult. But what has not changed is YOU and your continued commitment to our United Women in Faith Mission and Missions.

As I look over these past months, what I find is undeniable evidence that those who have elected to continue with us provide gleams of hope and stalwart support of our Missions and Mission. Your district officer team is gathered to support you. But we cannot deny that as these members and units withdraw their support, those for whom our Missions have offered hope and paths to better lives may feel the consequences. All we can do is work to diminish those consequences as much as possible at the Local, District, Conference, and National levels. That is what WE need to be about...doing what we, as individuals, units, and a district can.....spreading the word about Mission, looking for opportunities to expand our membership, and finding other ways to raise funds for Mission.

So how ARE we doing at this one-half mark in 2023? At the end of the second quarter of 2023, the Appalachian District sent $12,526 in Mission Giving to the Conference. That is slightly behind what had been sent this time in 2022. Our District 2023 pledge is $40,000. That may seem an unattainable goal, especially as we lose members/units. But, let's forget that number and focus on what we CAN achieve, which is MUCH and which is the only thing that really counts. Many units are actually on track to meet their individual unit Pledges and we know that many search their coffers toward the end of the year to bolster their support for Mission. That gives me optimism that we in the Appalachian District will indeed end the year with our heads held high in support of Mission. We will do as much as we possibly can, and that is what counts. Appalachian District United Women in Faith GIVE to Mission in Love.

I AM THRILLED TO BE PART OF THAT! Please tell me how I can help!

Blessings,
Nancy F. Reigel

Mission, Education & Interpretation Coordinator

Well done, Appalachian District Units! Forty-three feminine hygiene kits were collected at the April Mission Study at First United Methodist, North Wilkesboro. It certainly was a great day with Kim Eller, Northern Piedmont Lay Leader, presenting the mission study, "Who Can We Be Together: A Biblical Exploration of Luke 13."

Our Annual Celebration is coming up quickly! Saturday, August 26 at New Covenant UMC, Lenoir. The Hands-on mission will be collecting new kitchen items for Project Agape: plates, bowls, cups, silverware, pots & pans, cooking utensils, dish towels, and washing clothes. These will help families that have been displaced to set up in their new homes. Thank you for your generous giving.

Blessings,
Penny Ledbetter
ME&I Coordinator

Greetings!

Can you believe how this year is flying by so fast? Time waits on no one. The nominating committee has a great task before us. We have several positions that need to be filled.

Here are the following officers we need:

1. Secretary
2. Treasure
3. Spiritual Growth Coordinator
4. Mission, Education, and Interpretation Coordinator (ME&I)
5. Two Nominations Committee Members
6. Historian

To all the units in the district, we ask you to be in prayer that the Lord send us "willing workers."

Special Thanks to Nancy Reigel for stepping in as Treasurer, and Sherry Summerlin as Spiritual Growth Coordinator until the end of the year!

If you or someone you know may be willing to serve, contact me or any member of the nominations committee! On the following page see the slate of officers nominated for election at the 2023 Annual Celebration in August.

Be Blessed!

Blessings

What's Happening in The United Methodist Church?

Amid exits and misinformation, change is a chance for hope and renewal.

by TARA BARNES

It's a time of change and transition in The United Methodist Church. As members of United Women in Faith and faith leaders in your churches and communities, you can be a source of strength and vision as we navigate new waters together.

This past year, hundreds of churches disaffiliated from The United Methodist Church, leaving the denomination to become independent congregations or join another denomination. Since 2019, around 2,000 churches have left the denomination, according to United Methodist News and the United Methodist General Council on Finance and Administration.

So what's going on?

In 2019, after a special session of the United Methodist General Conference, a new paragraph was added to The Book of Discipline of The United Methodist Church allowing local churches to leave The United Methodist Church, or disaffiliate, and keep their church building. Before 2019, leaving the denomination meant closing the church, with church property given to the annual conference board of trustees.

The provisions of the new disaffiliation paragraph expire Dec. 31, 2023, which explains some of the current urgency.

What isn't going on is a church split. There are more than 40,000 United Methodist churches worldwide, with nearly 13 million members. Nor have disaffiliations led to a mass exodus, but they have taken a toll.

How did we get here?

The 2019 General Conference that introduced disaffiliation into the United Methodist law book was an attempt by the global decision-making body to address the church's longtime and ongoing disagreement over homosexuality.

The special session was born of a recommendation by the Council of Bishops in 2016 "that the General Conference defer all votes on human sexuality and refer this entire subject to a special Commission, named by the Council of Bishops, to develop a complete examination and possible revision of every paragraph in our Book of Discipline regarding human sexuality." The goal was to keep our global denomination united and better able, by moving beyond our impasse, to make disciples of Christ for the transformation of the world.

The special commission, called the Commission on a Way Forward, offered a report on which the General Conference would act and included three possible plans for the future of the church: one that allowed but did not require the ordination and marriage of LGBTQ+ United Methodists, one that created three values-based conferences that churches could join, and one that maintained the denomination's wedding and ordination bans and increased the penalties for clergy who violated those bans.

By a difference of only 54 votes, General Conference supported the Traditional Plan, which reinforced the instruction that the "practice of homosexuality is incompatible with Christian teaching" and strengthened enforcement of church restrictions related to homosexuality. The new paragraph, "Disaffiliation of Local Churches Over Issues Related to Human Sexuality," also passed.

What resulted was a denomination with a broken heart—and United Methodists with heels dug in. Instead of exiting, many United Methodists who want the marriage and ordination exclusions removed have stayed to continue to work for a more inclusive church.

In response, in the leadup to General Conference 2020, an exit plan was brokered that would, if passed, allow local churches to keep their property and give $25 million to a traditionalist splinter group hoping to establish its own denomination. This legislation, called "Reconciliation and Grace Through Separation," or the Protocol, was more palatable to many traditionalists than the disaffiliation paragraph passed in 2019, so, though the disaffiliation paragraph was in effect, many churches decided to wait until the next General Conference in hopes the Protocol would pass.

COVID-19 safety restrictions ultimately postponed the 2020 General Conference to 2024—past the disaffiliation time limit—and traditionalists decided to move forward with their new denomination in May 2022. With the disaffiliation deadline looming, the new denomination is rushing to encourage United Methodist congregations to leave The United Methodist Church. The proselytizing is at full steam, and misinformation continues to spread.

What do we need to know?

As members of United Women in Faith, it's important for you to know that you can remain a member even if your church disaffiliates. You can continue to meet as a United Women in Faith group, or your local unit can also become a cluster group with other units or become a district unit.

There's also All Access Membership, which offers an opportunity to remain connected to the work at the national level independent of a unit or with a new All Access group.

Individuals can join nearby and district groups and also become an All Access member. There are many ways to be a part of our sisterhood and make an impact! You can learn more at uwfaith.org/all-access-membership. Contact membership@uwfaith.org with questions.

If your church is leaving and you wish to remain United Methodist, you can transfer your membership to another United Methodist church. Contact your district superintendent to learn more about your options. You may even have an opportunity, like in the North Carolina Conference, to become part of a collective until you find your new church home. Your United Methodist conference should have some resources to help you remain United Methodist as well.

Because The United Methodist Church is not splitting, a vote by local churches on affiliation or disaffiliation is not required—no congregational action is necessary for United Methodist churches to remain a part of The United Methodist Church.

Know, too, that United Women in Faith is and remains the official women's organization of The United Methodist Church. This does not mean you must be United Methodist to be a member—it means our theology and practices of faith align with those of The United Methodist Church. We are a bold, welcoming sisterhood and a safe, empowering space for women to belong and grow in faith, leadership, and mission.

Getting it right

We're in a strange place where folks are leaving The United Methodist Church based on a perceived future, and it seems the sky is the limit as far as some of those predictions go. You may have heard it said that The United Methodist Church will soon no longer believe in the divinity of Jesus, will edit the Bible, will disregard The Book of Discipline and core tenets of Methodism altogether, will be completely changing its social and moral stances to extreme progressive viewpoints in just a few years, will force out traditionalists, and other forecasting meant to instill anxiety and fear. None of this is true. Nor is it true that members of disaffiliated churches can continue to serve in leadership positions in The United Methodist Church, or that exiting congregations can continue to offer the same health benefits and pensions to staff, or that pastors leave with their churches—pastors decide for themselves, and there is no guarantee of clergy leadership for disaffiliated churches.

The United Methodist Church makes decisions together through elected delegates from around the world coming together to conference and vote. These delegates bring a great variety of reason, tradition, experience, and understanding of Scripture to these decision-making spaces, and United Methodists strive for diversity and unity, not conformity.

The future of The United Methodist Church is ours to make.

Hope for the future

Methodism dates back to 1730, when John and Charles Wesley started small student groups at Oxford University in England. The United Methodist Church was founded only in 1968 as the coming together of many Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren denominations that had their own splits and mergers. Our organization has had more than 20 names and iterations. In other words, we've been here before, and the church is still here today.

Disaffiliation is a big decision that should not be made without prayer, transparency, information, and conversation. You, as a faith leader, can be a great resource for your congregation and Methodist siblings in this time in our church, lending your ear, faith, and knowledge and offering clarity, conversation, and comfort.

You are a member of United Women in Faith. You dare to believe in a bright future—and do the work to make it happen.

es before us, it's our turn to make change an opportunity to reach and uplift even more women while we take care of one another in the transition. It won't be easy, but it will be worth it. Joy will be found, for we know who and whose we are. We are faith, action, and sisterhood. The next United Methodist General Conference will take place April 23 to May 4, 2024, in Charlotte, North Carolina. United Women in Faith will be there.

It is our ability to change, grow, and continue to let God perfect us in love that keeps us going. God is still at work in The United Methodist Church. United Women in Faith has a crucial role to play in building God's kin-dom. 🏡

Judy Leru Starnes Sipe, age 75, passed away Saturday, July 8, 2023, at Atrium Health in Mecklenburg County. She was born to the late Grady Thomas Starnes and Melza Irene Little Starnes on Tuesday, December 30, 1947, in Catawba County. Mrs. Sipe was a devoted and lifelong member of Mt. Bethel Methodist Church where she was a leader in the church and president of the Methodist Women's Group. Judy worked closely with Drum Majorettes of America. She enjoyed working with flowers, crafting, collecting tea pots, watching westerns, and the Atlanta Braves. Judy was a generous soul that would give and help anyone. She loved her family dearly and cherished spending time with them.

Including her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband of 45 years, Charles Wenter Sipe; son, Michael Wenter Sipe.

Those left to cherish the memories of Judy include her son, Tracy Sipe (Marie) of Hickory; daughter, Kisha Sipe of Mount Airy; grandchildren, Jackson Sipe, Jordan, Amber, and Kendra Hill; sister, Karen Bowman (Gary); and a number of nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Funeral arrangements were entrusted to
